The Castellon
51'

Dedication

We, the graduates of 1951, introduce with pride our Castellan advisor, Miss Mary Emma Boggan.

Miss Boggan attended Delta State Teachers College, Cleveland, Mississippi, and obtained her Master's Degree at Columbia University where she is currently continuing graduate study in English.

After Teaching English and Social Science at Aguella Consolidated School, Miss Boggan taught for one year at Delta State Teachers College. She came to St. Mary's in the fall of 1949.

As head of the English department at St. Mary's her thorough knowledge of her subject, her outstanding ability as an instructor, and her qualities of enthusiasm, sympathetic understanding, and painstaking thoroughness have enabled us to realize, with enjoyment, high standards of achievement in this field.

Miss Boggan has, with her inspiring example and unrelenting spirit, made King's Daughters a worthwhile organization. Through the journalism classes, some of her qualities manifested in editing the school paper are reflected in the staff. We earnestly express gratitude for her invaluable help and contributions towards this, our Castellan.

To the Seniors:

The privilege of being a senior at St. Mary's has been a significant experience to me. I am confident that this feeling is shared by my classmates. As we approach commencement, we are preparing for this meaningful ceremony with all the enthusiasm and interest that has been characteristic of our class throughout the years.

At S. M. S. we have become aware of the fact that our experience here as citizens is a valuable preparation for the responsibilities of citizenship which we must assume outside college life.

The privilege of serving as president of the class of 1950-51 has been a most rewarding one for me. Thank you for the complete support that you gave to our class program. Your wholehearted participation in our many activities made our year a great success. As individuals we will remember and cherish special moments in our life here.

Thank you for the memories of St. Mary's.

Sparks High School sent its wit and humor to St. Mary's in the form of Olive Sibley. Perhaps her nickname should have been "Giggles" instead of "Sib." She carried a sense of joy wherever she went. Her greatest interest was in the physical education department, in which she majored. Her participation in varsity and class games was of great value to the team. She plans to continue her studies in September.

(Four year student)

Consistently an outstanding leader, Bert has been an invaluable asset to the class of 1951 and to St. Mary's. In the past four years, her personal contributions in sports, music, and citizenship have been particularly noteworthy. Bert has given generously of time, effort, and most important of all, herself. Numberless school functions have been spurred on to successful completion by her unwavering support. Liked and admired by all, she stands among those who make St. Mary's what it is.

Senior Class History

Scored, green, and mischievous are among the many adjectives which can describe the Freshman class of 1947. During those first few weeks we suddenly discovered that St. Mary's was quite different from previous schools; with the passing of each week, the true value of living in such an environment was realized.

To start off on the right foot, we elected Betty Resh as class president. Class spirit was shown in all activities, especially when eleven girls, introduced to hockey for the first time, finished second in the school tournament. The only varsity Freshman was Bert Horsmon. With varsity basketball, Bert again represented her class. In volleyball season, she was joined by Bobbie Gray for the squad and by Amie Southall in softball season. Bobbie Gray was the only member of her class on A.A. Board. Bobbie was manager of modern dance for two consecutive years, carrying the May Day responsibilities. In May the Freshmen boasted one of the prettiest princesses on May Court — Olivene Taft.

An exciting year ended; but summer passed quickly, finding us back at St. Mary's for our Sophomore year. Olivene Taft was elected class president and did a tremendous job. In sports, the Sophs came out on top in the intramural tournament, losing only one game. The hockey varsity again claimed Bert Horsmon plus Mary Lou Pinder. The volleyball team included four Freshmen and supplied Betsy Briscoe for the varsity captain. Bert Horsmon joined the realm of those girls who have won their blazers in two years. Olivene Taft again represented us with her poise and beauty as the school representative to the Apple Blossom Festival. Our attractive May Court members were Betty Resh and Caroll Chandler. Then as June and graduation drew near, many happy memories were relived. For in the fall some members would pursue their studies elsewhere. Yet there were many who planned to return to St. Mary's.

Thus in the fall of '49, there were forty-five members of the Junior class. We had the largest class and we kept on doing big things. We re-elected Olivene Taft as class president, placed six of our classmates on the varsity hockey team, and supplied a captain, Mary Lou Pinder. For basketball, another captain stemmed from us. Bert Horsmon and seven other Juniors were on the varsity. Mary Ann Harryman, Mary Lou Pinder, and Bert were first string forwards and Marion Greenwell a first string guard. To repeat history, we again won the intramural tournament with no losses. Bobbie Gray and Mary Lou Pinder won their blazers and Bert Horsmon won the A.A. trophy for 900 points.

Further achieving in athletics, we placed seven Juniors on the eight-man volleyball team. In softball, we claimed six out of nine players. However, sports was only one star in our crown. Bert Horsmon represented us as Yearbook editor with Beverly Sewell assisting. These two girls were also delegates to the National Student Association. At Hagerstown, Bobbie Gray was elected vice-president of the Maryland Association of Junior Colleges. In May, we elected lovely Olivene Taft as our princess, for the third year, on the May Court.

Thus the third year of study, work, and fun came to a close. We looked forward to the fall when we would again return — but as Seniors. Joanne Courtney was elected to the class presidency. Beverly Sewell headed the Student Council with Shandren Moore as vice-president. Bert Horsmon was president of the Athletic Association assisted by Bobbie Gray as vice-president. Suzie Chambers was voted head of the French Club. Joan Maust was president of Samadra, capably assisted by Ann Blackwell. The Home Ec. Club claimed Betsy Briscoe as its president. Caroll Chandler was editor of the newspaper, assisted by Joanne Courtney. Barbara Burkley was assistant editor of the yearbook. So it is obvious that we were a busy group of people. In athletics, we again took the honors. We supplied seven varsity hockey members and Joanne Courtney as captain; we also supplied six varsity basketball members and again Bert Horsmon as captain. Betsy Briscoe and Mary Ann Harryman were our blazer girls. During this year we accomplished many things — many things for the benefit of our class and school. In December, Joanne Courtney was selected to be the spirit of Christmas. Then the year seemed to pass quickly over exams, dances, and finally graduation. Here many friendships would be ceased and certainly St. Mary's was the place to make true friends. Many of us will be out of the state whether to college or for other reasons; but in the end, happy memories will serve as a source of enjoyment and Alumnae weekend will find many back at their Alma Mater.

Prophecy

"Hi, Misty! Look what's here! The latest edition of the Alumnae Newsletter or How to be Great in One Year. Ruff! Now we'll know how those Seniors of 1951 are making out.

"Grrr! I distinctly remember being called a hound! And as long as I've been stationed here! Why, Pebbles, it's just home to me, that's all.

"Ya know, Misty, that was the same it was to them—at least, I reckon so. Hmm—well, anyway, let's see what it says. . . . Look here! In the society column, quote: 'Miss Beverly Sewell has just returned from the Kentucky Derby where her horse "A-men" was entered. He placed seventh, with only the starting gate lagging in the rear.' Well, well, well. Did you ever? . . . And down the page a bit there's news of her roommate. It says, 'Miss Horsmon appointed Playground Director at Madison Square Garden.' Wonder whether she can stop participating long enough to direct. It'll have to be pretty exciting. . . . Now! Look at this picture, Misty. Some bathing suit, huh? And Carrall Chandler always seemed to wear them so well. Now she's a lifeguard at the Ritz in Ocean City. Looks like her friend, Olivene Taft, manages this hotel and has employed her to help. Probably helps business too, I'd say. . . . Oh, you want to see the sports section. Gee, that ump looks familiar. Olive Sibley! She looks baffled. What does it say? She has just remarked that she made a bad decision and had no argument. Surprise! . . . What's this? All American hockey team! That's Mory Anne Harryman. Now! Some accomplishment. Think I'll turn back to the front page now. 'West Point accepts first Woman!' Guess who that is. Bobbie Gray. . . . And it says that Joanne Courtney is employed here since Miss Chance is in the Wacs. Well, we knew that. Nothing new, nothing at all. . . . Suzie Chambers. Umm . . . Maternity Ward. How can she do it? . . . Oh, an author was in our midst. That little Southern girl, Mary Lib Roseberry, wrote a book called How to Become a Yankee in Ten Easy Lessons. The Burkley twins have established an exclusive nursery school. The one requirement is that all the children must belong to alumnae. What a qualification for membership. I don't blame them. Only the best, I say. . . . Oh, Barbara Long is doing her internship now to be a dietitian. Good deal—more food around. . . . Barb Thompson owns her own little place now. It's very Bohemian and she's left the original name there—the Bayside. Joan Maust and Ann Blackwell are combining abilities for the production of "Forever Amber." They say this is a new type of role for Andy. Agreed! . . . Recognition, Misty. She's gotten her name in the paper. You know . . . Betsy Briscoe who's here cleaning up that store. Well, they're telling about it here. Seems they just couldn't get along without her. . . . More war news. Frances Paul hocked her violin to buy a bugle. Now she practices every morning at 6:00 at her army station. . . . Oh, My! Talk about surprises? Shandren Moore has changed her mind about an education. She's also stopped worrying about not gaining weight. She's the first major woman jockey. . . . Lee Blackistone's still working for worthy causes. She was just elected president of the Future Mothers of America. . . . Judy Legg has used her business training to become a C. P. A. (Certified Public Accountant), the only woman to obtain this position in Denton. . . . Joyce Bedell. . . . She's a librarian in her home town. That English Lit. must have made some impression. . . . Look, Misty, we almost overlooked this. Remember those boys who used to fly around here in their cars and scare us out of our wits? It says here that Tammy Cook, Carl Merson, Lee Adams, and Frank Kouffman are in charge of War Recreation due to their Seminary experience. Boy, I bet they're having a good time. . . . Let's see now. You know, Misty, I think that's all. That covers the whole class. It usually takes a class ten years to make some accomplishment but the Seniors of '51 did it in just one year. I guess we've always expected great things of those people. Even when they were here they kept things going. Oh, well. We'll see them Alumnae weekend. Come an, Misty. It's time for our afternoon swim."

A conscientious student who is well known for her dry wit is our Sophomore class president, Cyn. Being one of our favorite Navy Juniors, she finds Navy life the only life for her. She has a very active interest in science and French. Due to her fondness of raving, Cyn will not be with us next year. May the best of luck follow her wherever she may be in the future.

TO THE SOPHOMORES:

In the past two years at St. Mary's, you have demonstrated your ability and initiative in many ways; your cooperative attitude towards work and play alike could not have been surpassed. I sincerely hope that, in the years ahead, these same qualities will bring increasing success and happiness to each one of you.

Varsity Hockey 2; French Club 2; Chair 2; Home Ec. Club 2; May Day 2.

(Two-year student)

When you hear the clatter of little feet going down the hall, you may be sure it's "Bo" heading for closses. Our tall blond with the slow infectious grin talks a blue streak when she isn't laughing. She may be found in the smoker where she plays a mean hand of bridge or on the basketball court helping our team on to victory. Bo's personality and attractiveness have helped make our life exciting.

There will your heart be also."*

Class President 1; Court 2; Council 2; French Club 2; A. A. Board 2; Orientation Committee 2; Choir 1, 2; Newspaper Staff 1.

Becky is another one who feels that the Eastern Shore is the only good part of Maryland. Serving as a very copable class president last year and on council this year, she has proven that she is willing to help wherever she is needed. We are looking forward to seeing her when we revisit S. M. S. next year.

MILDRED ANN LAWRENCE

"Roonie"

"Her voice was ever soft,

Gentle and low—an excellent thing in woman."

Choir 2; Somadra 2; May Day 2.

(One-year student)

The petite miss of the class of '51 is Ann Lawrence. With special interests in art and music, she is sure to go a long way. Being a Southern Marylander, accent and all, she believes in taking things slow and easy. That's one of the reasons why she speaks several different languages. May we wish her the best of luck in the future and hope to see her back here again next year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

It's quality that counts, not quantity! Yes, sir, that's the motto of the Class of '51. We have been the smallest class at S. M. S. for two years now but that mere detail hasn't kept us from being a class with plenty of steam.

We entered S. M. S. an even dozen of extremely scared fresh—all set to get going and prove that we have what it takes. Our enthusiastic participation in the traditional talent show gave the old girls an idea of the type of ability to expect from their new freshmen.

We got busy and elected our class officers: Becky McClyment was our very able class secretary; Cyn Gard, vice-president, Margie Wetherill, president; and Bev Smith, treasurer. After Bev's departure Phyll took over the job of counting money. Freshman Council members were Jaan and Phyll; when Phyll resigned, Cyn was elected to fill her position. The class sponsor was Miss Reinbold, who later became Mrs. Turnburke.

The next activity which our class undertook was their attempt to form a hockey team. Although battered and bruised we learned that the object was to hit a small, wooden ball, not the other players!

Tien November arrived, with the inevitable fall production. Cyn Gard, our most dramatically inclined freshman, portrayed Mary in "Jane Eyre." As part of the Christmas Banquet, the freshmen presented a skit called "Santa Visits a Salesgirl." January found the freshmen returning to St. Mary's to face their first real exams. This marked the end of our first semester at S. M. S. and the beginning of another and better one. At this point, we had lost two of our original classmates: Bev and Mary Louise. We were, though, fortunate to have two new additions to our class: Karen and Pat.

We all pitched in and turned out a peppy basketball team. This team could be heard before we were seen, due to our quiet plaid uniforms. After a tough struggle, we finally took over the position of honor reserved for freshmen—last place. Our team captain was Cookie, also our sole representative on varsity. When cheer leaders were elected, Janie Williams was our indispensable contribution to this activity.

Freshmen were all eager participants in the first Annual Pageant presented by the Seminary. Each girl cooperated and carried out her part with true Sem-Fem spirit.

Several of our classmates were now struck with spring-fever but that didn't hamper our historic softball team. The freshmen won second place in the softball tournament. This season will be well-remembered because of Yo's strong arm tactics and the great sportsmanship exhibited by our class. Freshman varsity softball members were Phyll Ames and Joan Cook.

May Day was the next student body activity in which the fresh participated. Many of our members were in the "Slaughter" and various other events of the day. Our princess in the May Court was Winnie Davis who upheld the reputation of an outstanding freshman class. Needless to say, we were all willing participants in the May prom, a dance that the Sem-Fems will never forget.

Class day impressed each and every freshman, everything from tying daisies at daybreak to being copped by an upper classman. We fresh were an extremely sad crew on Graduation day as contrasted with the thrilling graduates of whom we were very proud. The realization that we would soon be in their position led us to look forward to our next year at S. M. S.

The group of ex-freshmen who returned to S. M. S. after an all-too short summer were pleasantly surprised at finding some new members of the "Sophomore Class." Marnie Goldsborough left her beloved Eastern Shore to join our class. Ann Lawrence also arrived to provide the sophs with a Southern belle. This September was the first year that new girls were initiated. We sophs thanked our lucky stars that someone hadn't dreamed that up during our freshman year. Several of our former classmates were missing.

After reminiscing about the good times we all had had, we became serious just long enough to elect our new class officers. Cyn Gard was elected president; Karen Peterson, vice-president; Phyll Ames, secretary; and Margie Wetherill, treasurer. We selected our dean, Miss Cunliffe, as sophomore class sponsor. Becky, Ba, and Cyn represented our class on Student Council. Sophomores were more than well-represented on A. A. Board: Margie, Ba, Becky, Jaan, and Phyll were all members.

Time to play hockey!! All the sophs considered themselves seasoned experts. To prove that we had become good sports, Petie, Marnie, Dolores, and Jaan became varsity members. Sophomores limped away from their last game, with second place to their credit and lots of spirit, still intact. "American Primitive" was Samadra's annual production. Ann was our contribution to this project. Next on the very busy calendar of a Sem-Fem was our sophomore class assembly, in which our class again demonstrated their initiative. The closing lines of this program characterized the spirit of cooperation, typical of the sophomore class of '51. The senior-Sophomore bazaar was a huge success this year. Sophomore waitresses created quite a stir with their uniforms—shorts, in the middle of winter! The sophs' contribution to the Christmas Banquet this year was "How Come Christmas?" with all members of the class participating. Basketball season was now well underway with the usual outstanding sophomore support. Joan, Ba, and Phyll were members of our class on the varsity.

We are looking forward to this spring: May Day, Pageant, and Class Day are among the scheduled activities. But, more than these events we are anticipating that momentous day in our lives—Graduation. Then we will be able to review the years spent at St. Mary's with pride in our class and its accomplishments.

"There'll never be any more like us, so, Sophomores, hail to thee!"

Sophomore Will

We, the Sophomore class of '51, being of unsound mind and body, do hereby leave this, our last will and testament, to those who will succeed us as the Sophomores of '52.

I, Phyllis Clare Ames, will to Jeanette Chase my love for a co-ed school, my knack for letter writing to Jo Ann Smith, and my privilege of being the only bass at S.M.S. to Carolyn Lewis.

I, Jaan Patricia Cook, will the traditional red bookcase to Jeanette Chase, to Barbara Lee Van Devanter my so-called athletic ability, and my love for the South to my little sis, Janie Clough.

I, Cynthia Anne Gard, will complete rights to the Naval Academy to Cornelia Dixon, my skill in sports to my little sis, Peggy Childs, and a broom and mop to Ann Wenner.

I, Margaret Owen Goldsborough, will my love for the Eastern Shore to my roommate, Mary Clare Turner, to Diana Lee Johnson, my Pogo comics, and my ability to lose and forget things to Ann Wenner.

I, Mildred Ann Lawrence, will my interest in Charlotte Hall to Diana Lee Johnson, to Shirley Ford, my hair dryer, and my Southern Maryland accent to Peggy Childs.

I, Anne Maxwell, will to my little sis, Diana Lee Johnson, my ability to make peanut butter sandwiches after lights-out, and to Miss Richelderfer my Teddy bear, in hopes that he will keep her warmer on cold nights than he did me, and my ability to bid on a singleton when playing Bridge to Ruth Butcher.

I, Rebecca Anne McClyment, will to Carol Ridgeway my faithfulness to one man, and my love for the "good part of Maryland" (and Chestertown) to Ann Wenner, and taking a Chance—my interest in Dodge cars to Jo Ann Smith.

I, Karen Edyth Peterson, will a ticket to Norfolk to Cornelia Dixon, my little sis, the day hops to any lucky Sem-Fem who chances to hook them; and to Carol Ridgeway, I will my neat room.

I, Margaret Clark Wetherill, will to Carol Ridgeway that good ole "party spirit," my natural curly hair to my little sis, Carolyn Lewis, and to Jan Chase, my knowledge of a certain Washington family.

I, Dolores Maude Willoughby, will my love for French to Peggy Childs, to Shirley Ford, my love for hill-billy music; and to Bobby Lee VanDevanter, I leave my report card.

I, Dorothy Avis Yeamans, will to Barbara Lee VanDevanter, my ability to get into mischief, my one and only wave to Cornelia Dixon, and to my little sis, Mary Louise Warden, my shoes with the character.

Signed,

Sophomore Prophecy

St. Mary's Seminary Junior College has really progressed in the ten years since our graduation in June, 1951. Just in case you haven't heard, it is now a four-year college and co-education, no less! As we stroll about the grounds and hallowed halls, old memories flash across our minds.

Here's a class in the Science Department of the classroom building. Just look at all the new equipment! Our former class president, Cynthia Gard, would go wild in a place like this. Oh, have you heard the latest news of Cyn? After leaving S.M.S. she took in some college life at Bryn Mawr and from there went into nurse's training at Johns Hopkins. She's now the Superintendent of Nurses there.

The Old Music Hall is rather out of date by now. Remember those wonderful Artist and Lecture programs? Let me see — who was that cute usher? Oh yes, it was Karen Peterson. She was married several years after graduation and is now kept busy raising her family of four boys. In her spare time she is the musical advisor for the Youth Recreation Center near her home.

Phyllis Ames, our other big family woman, is kept pretty busy these days. After returning from her tour of Europe, she married and moved to Mississippi. When not coaching her many boys on the art of football, she is their private tutor in boss singing. In her extra moments, she is very active in the community social welfare work.

Our old Social Chairman of A. A. Board, Margaret Wetherill, is still very familiar to the students of S.M.C. She is now the chairman of the Washington Chapter of the Alumni. After graduating from the University of Miami, she returned to D.C. and now leads Washington society. That's Margie—"constant partying."

Let's drop in the rec room for a few minutes and play a hand of bridge. All we need now is Anne Maxwell. Which reminds me — she has come up quite a bit in the world. After grasping on education, she went to work for Hutzler's in Baltimore where she is now Assistant Buyer. Bo also had quite a few paintings in the latest amateur exhibit at Walter's Art Gallery.

Another artistic member of our class, Ann Lawrence, has put on a one-man exhibit at the National Art Gallery in Washington. She is now the latest rage along the Eastern Coast for her torch singing. After finishing an engagement at the Copacabana in Miami, she came home for a rest to Southern Maryland and dropped in to see her Almo Mater.

The new library is the tenth largest in the country. The librarian looks familiar. Why it's Margaret Goldsborough! We always knew she would have a career in connection with literature. Mornie tells us that she has been librarian for three years, and in her quiet moments has been working on a novel of her own. Yes, authoress Goldsborough, we know it will be a success.

While strolling through the library, we happened to glance at the newspaper. The former Rebecca McClyment and her charming husband, the Senator from Maryland, were on the front page. The Senator is now campaigning for his re-election in the fall. We understand Becky has helped her husband a great deal by her early political experiences as a Senator's secretary.

Walking down the corridor of the women's dormitory, we decide to stop in for a moment to see the office personnel. Delores Willoughby! After getting her R.N., she went into the Naval Nurse Corps as a lieutenant. Since her discharge, she just couldn't keep away from the Seminary and had to come back to fill Miss Chance's place after the latter's recent retirement.

As we walk through the dorm, something seems strange. There is a different air about the place. Then we remember — Dorothy Yaemans. Our old New Yorker, Yo, seems to have livened up her home state a bit. Several years ago, she married a fellow New Yorker, and since then they have started their own TV network. Yo's pet program is called "The Busy Artist Hour" in which she gives lessons from coast to coast.

It's getting rather late and time to leave, but before saying farewell let's take a lost look at the new snack bar for the students. I understand that today Joan Cook is in this territory. Cookie, after doing extensive work in physical education and obtaining a math degree, is now the Finance Manager of a series of chain stores. This job requires her to commute between cities on the Atlantic Coast.

Thus, we bring to a close this extensive visit to our dear old Alma Mater. Reluctantly we leave S.M.C. carrying with us memories of our Almo Mater and old schoolmates.

Undergraduates

Junior Class History

Four years ago, our Junior class was unofficially begun. It was in September, 1947 that Charlotte Stanton entered St. Mary's as the only sub-Freshman. In February, 1948, Charlotte was joined by Alice Thompson, and in September, 1948, by the official Freshman class.

Joon Michael was elected President of the class for the first semester with Charlotte Stanton taking over in February. Alice Thompson was Secretary, Lacy Rees, Treasurer, and Gail Teese and Betty Turner were Historians.

Betty Turner and Lacy Rees were the Freshmen council members.

The Freshmen were represented by four young actresses in Samadro's 1948 fall production, "Ladies in Retirement."

For our Moy Court we elected a praise-worthy princess, Catherine Cooksey.

In September, 1949, we were joined by four new girls. We elected Betty Turner, President; Alice Thompson, Vice-President; Charlotte Stanton, Secretary; and Georgia Bennett, Treasurer, as our class officers.

Betty Turner, Charlotte Stanton, and Anne Tilghmon were the council members from the Sophomore class.

Talent from our class was again displayed in our fall production, "Jane Eyre," with Georgia Bennett playing Mrs. Fairfax and Betsy Wetherill as stage manager. In the pageant in the spring every member of our class participated.

Last year we were well represented on the Moy Court by Bobbie Gelston and Jimmie Rutan.

Graduation day arrived at last and all members of the Sophomore class graduated with flying colors.

This year only three members of our old class returned: Georgia Bennett, Anne Tilghmon, and Alice Thompson. Under the leadership of our capable class president, Anne Tilghmon, the Junior class took part in the various activities at S.M.S. with confidence and success. Our other class officers are: Barbara Boland, Vice-President, Peggy Dinkle, Secretary, and Mory Ann Bloke, Treasurer.

Georgia Bennett was elected Treasurer of the Student Council and Alice Thompson, Secretary. Other Juniors serving on Council are: Peggy Dinkle, Nancy Butts, and Mory Ann Bloke.

Our class started out this year with nineteen girls and two boys — later losing Dottie Morgan and Pot Pfoutz.

Kitty Hoen was the only Junior classman on the varsity hockey team and Nancy Clapp, the only Junior cheerleader.

In the fall production, "American Primitive," two Juniors had leading parts—Peggy Dinkle played Katherine Hopkins, and Larry Browne played Dere Hopkins. Charles Donaldson played Milch, and Georgia Bennett was stage manager.

A Junior, Anne Tilghmon, also had the lead speaking part in the Christmas pageant. Our Christmas skit, "Why the Chimes Rang" was very successful with every member in the Junior class taking part.

We are all now looking forward to graduation week when we will be capped by the Seniors and will be able to return next fall as Seniors.

Freshmen Class History

The freshmen come — wide eyed and curious. For most of us, boarding school was a new experience, but soon we were made to feel at home by the friendly Sem-Fems. During the first week, we participated in a talent show given to the old students. The campus was now our stamping ground, its leaders our buddies.

One of our first projects was to elect class officers. The results were — Jan Chose, President; Gail Bowen, Vice-President; Mickey Warden, Secretary; and Diana Lee Johnson, Treasurer. Miss Richelderfer was chosen for our class sponsor.

We were well represented in dramatics. In the fall production, "The American Primitive," Peggy Childs, Ann Wenner, Gail Bowen, and Mickey Warden, displayed their talents. At the traditional Christmas banquet, the freshmen came through with top honors in the presentation of "Trudy Visits Toyland."

There was a freshman for every sport. Mickey favored in the fall sports, hockey varsity, while Mary Clare Turner, Carolyn Lewis, and Bobbie Van Devanter looked toward winter and basketball. Jo Smith was the official time-keeper. Class spirit also ran high. Diana Lee, hockey captain, and Mary Clare, basketball captain, gave us our pep talks. Although not victorious in all games, we put up a good fight.

Who had the steam? Why, the cheerleaders, of course. Those from our class were Janie Clough, Diana Lee Johnson, and Jan Chose.

Following the first semester we lost three valuable classmates, our two council members, Janie and Mickey, and Vice-President, Gail. We gained, though, a cute redhead, Ruth Butcher. A new Secretary and Vice-President were elected. Cornelia Dixon and Bobbie Van Devanter ably filled their new positions.

Looking back on our freshman year, we were proud of what lies behind, and confident of what awaits us.
